A SOLDIER'S DEATH.

The inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of L. Corpl. Smith of the Buffs who died from self-inflicted injuries on the 27th ult, was resumed at the Magistracy yesterday before punishable offence. There is not much Mr. J. H. Kemp.

Private Marsh stated that on the evening of the 27th ult., deceased asked him for the Ioan of his cap. Deceased took the cap and as he went out he said "Tell Corporal Wade there is a piece of foolscap on my table." Witness knew the deceased for five years. He was always on good terms with him and nobody had a grudge against him. It was a common thing for one man to borrow another's cap.

L. Corpl. Barker, who shared the same room with deceased, said he went out about 9 p.m. leaving Marsh in bed. When he returned at ten Marsh was still in bed. Witness heard nothing about borrowing a cap. Deceased was on good terms with everybody.

Private Dyer, who occupied the room next to that occupied by deceased, spoke to seeing L. members of the Council, Mr. Gresson said, Corpl. Smith leave his room on the night in question. He had known deceased for four years. The razor produced belonged to deceased This affair was a great surprise to witness who was unaware of deceased being worried over his private affairs. Deceased never complained of being overworked. He had a great deal of work.

Private Tozer said he saw deceased going out Excellency the Governor not to issue on the night in question. Deceased told him to regulations for a period of six months. LIBEL ACTIONS IN ALVA AND gers by the P. and O. steamer Delta which arrived action for libel brought by Mr. E. T Bothell against the N.-C. Daily News, which was concluded on Thursday in the Supreme Court at Shanghai, with a verdict in the plaintiff's favour, $3,000 damages being awarded. is, we gather, one of several actions dontemplated by Mr. Bethell. Three Hongkong newspapers reproduced from on. Shanghai contemporary the Tokyo telegram THE ANNEXATION OF THE CONGO containing that libel. It did not appear in the Daily Press. In view of the general unreliability of the news being sent at the time by Japanese press correspondents at Seoul, the statement made in the telegram seemed to anyone knowing Mr. Bethell so highly improbable that we deemed it more prudent to wait the arrival of the full report of the case. When that came we found our doubts were fully justified

In Japan actions for libel have been filed against two newspapers by Mr. W. T. R. Preston. Commissioner of Trade for the Dominion of Canada, and 20,000 yen is claimed from each. The newspapers concerned are the Japan Herald in Yokohama and the Japan Chronicle in Kobe. The ground of action is the publication of an extract from the Victoria Daily Colonist in which it was alleged that Mri Preston was in Japan working in the interests of Japanese emigration to Canada.

THE BANDMANN COMEDY CO.

The Company arrived in the Colony yesterday morning, and opened their season at the theatre last night with "Lady Frederick," Somerset Manghan's fine comedy which has had a pheno menally successful run at the Criterion, Court, New Garrick and Haymarket theatres, London' It was very evident from the artistic and highly successful performance given last night that Mr. Bandmann has brought to Hongkong a very strong Company. Miss Florence Hamer is already known to Hongkong sudiences as a actress of exceptional talent, and the clever interpretation of the title role last night won the most unqualified praise. Miss Lucy Beaument. at the Marine Magistrates Court yesterday a who took the part of Lady Mereston, was hardly less successful. Mr. Charles Vane impersonated persons in excess of the number allowed by her Paradine Fouldes most admirably, and Mr. licence. She informed the Court that she was Charles Cook made an excellent Admiral

The piece was played before a good house, and the performance was one upon which the Company can be most cordially congratulated. It created an impression which should ensure for the Company good houses on every night of their stay. To night "The Silver King" will be

THE ORDER OF ST. MICHAEL AND ST. GEORGE.

CEREMONY IN THE CHAPEL AT ST. PAUL'S.

An interesting and impressive ceremony was performed at the Chapel of St. Michael and St. George, in St. Paul's Cathedral, last month when the banners of the late Marquess of Linlithgow and the late Sir Nicholas O'Conor, Knights Grand Cross of the Order. removed from their place on the wall of the chapel. This was the first occasion for such a peremony since the opening of the chapel by the King about two years ago.

Bishop Montgomery, Prelate of the Order, who was assisted by Archdeacon Sinclair, conducted the brief service, which included the saying of the Collect for St. George. Sir William Ballie-Hamilton, as Officer

Arms to the Order, having first desired the banners to be reverently removed his hands, advanced to the altar and laid the banners upon the altar steps, there to remain for several days prior to being sent to the relatives of the late Knights Grand Cross. On the walls of the chapel are hung the three Royal banners of the King, the Prince of Wales, and the Duke of Connaught, and those of the thirty-two senior Knights of the Order and in the positions now vacated will be hung in the course of a few weeks the banners of Sir Donald Currie and Sir Thomas Sutherland, the former of whom has recently presented to the Order the altar steps of various African marbles and the handsomely carved altar rails.

A short service was also held for the dedication of memorial slabs to the late Lord Rosmead and the late Sir Walter Sendall, their custody being committed to the charge of the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's by the Hon. Mrs. Durrant, daughter of Lord Rosmead, and by Lady Sendall.

DEATH OF SIR EWEN CAMERON.

The news of the death of Sir Ewen Cameron will be received with genuine regret by many foreign residents in China.

He is one of those who have helped to make the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank what it is and his remarkable ability was acknowledged on all hands, but by none more generously than those in whose interests he worked so devotedly, as was demonstrated at the meeting of shareholders held at Hongkong, on 18th February, 1908, when Mr. A. J. Raymond, the Chairman, in his speech to the shareholders said :-

"I have now to refer to a matter which I am sure you will all be sorry to hear about, and that is the retirement of Sir Ewen Cameron, our Senior Manager in London. He has been stricken with a severe illness and was very anxious that the Directors should accept his resignation. I need hardly say that it was only in deference to his own wishes that we acceded to his request, and we did so with great reluctance, deep regret and sincere sympathy for

Many of you will remember him as Manager in Shanghai, where, as also in the North of China, he did so much to build up our business. I can look back myself 24 years in Shanghai and at that time there was no better known or more popular resident in the settlement than Mr. (as he then was) Ewen Cameron.

December 10th. THE S.S. "FATSHAN" AFFAIR-WORKING UP THE AGITATION.

The Chinese insist that a fresh inquiry should take place at the British Consulate in this matter. This will no doubt be acceded to if the application is made officially, provided also that important new evidence is forthcoming. The Chinese Press say that according to international law the case should be tried by the British Court as the incident occurred on a British vessel. This however does not apply to China as foreigners enjoy the privilege of extraterritoriality in China.

The "Yeong Shing Po" publishes an article to-day saying that public anger has been roused through the British Consul shifting his responsibility on to other shoulders in the Fatchan incident. The paper further states that the members of the Yau Tin Ying theatrical troupe have composed a song on the incident and have deputed many members of the troupe to sing it on board the passenger junks plying between Canton and inland waters (about 60 of these vessels leave Canton every day) and in the different villages up-country, and it is further stated that the members of the troupe are having grand receptions on board the junks and at the villages. Free passage tickets, tea cakes and wine are offered to the singers for their patriotic action and feelings wherever they go.

The military authorities have reported to the Vicercy that Luk Lan Ching has proceeded to Kwangsi. His Excellency has cabled to the Kwangsi Governor to do all in his power to effect his capture.

CHURCH BURNT DOWN BY MOB. It is reported that a telegram has been received here stating that the French Church at Yun-kong was burnt down yesterday and that the Christians have been obliged to fly THE CAPITAL OF KWANGSI. In July last the Central Government instructed the Governor of Kwangsi to remove the capital to Nanning on account of the city of Kweilin being badly situated for the effective control of the Province. Vicercy Chang also received instructions from Peking to assist the Kwangsi Governor to raise the necessary funds to effect the removal. Both these officials provinces were empty and that it required an enormous sum of money to carry out the project. They begged that the matter be postponed and nothing more was heard of it. Owing however to the recent recrudes cence of brigandage in the region the Central Government has again telegraphed to the Viceroy to consult his colleague on the question of removal. The telegram adds that funds must be raised and the capital transferred without any further delay. Some new taxation will be imposed in the Kwangtung Province before long and t'

Cantonese people will have to pay the piper for the transference of their neighbouring capital. A TRICKY OFFICIAL AND THE STARVING

A few days ago the Barbers Guild presented a petition to the Taotai of Industries stating that many of their fraternity are now on the verge of starvation through being thrown out of employment on account of the State mourning. The petitioners begged the Taotai to ask the Government to grant a certain allowance for the maintainance of each barber during the mourning period of 100 days, if the Government should refuse their permission for the re-opening of their shops after 27 days' mourning. In support of their request they mentioned that an allowance of $2 to each barber had been made by the Government in Tientsin, Hankow and other places during the mourning period. The Tao tai drew the attention of the Guild to the fact that their petition was not in proper order as it did not bear the signature of any person and requested the Guild to send a fresh petition signed by at least two leading members of the Guild. On receipt of the second petition the Taotai ordered the signatories to be arrested for their audacity in making such a proposal. They are now in the Nam Hoi prison and will be tried and punished when the mourning period is over.

SUPREME COURT.

Friday, December 11th.

IN ORIGINAL JURISDICTION. BEFORE HIS HONOUR SIR FRANCIS PIGGOTT (CHIEF JUSTICE).

A COMPRADORE'S LIABILITY. Further argument was heard in the case in which S. J. David and Co. sued Chan Ut Chui, a compradore formerly in their employ, for the recovery of $648,816; amount of damages due | Walter J. Daniel. under an agreement; and in the counter claim for the return of $55,000, defendant's security. The hearing was then adjourned sine die.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR MR. H. H. J. GOMPERTZ (ACTING-PUISNE JUDGE).

MASTER AND SERVANT. Action was brought by Ho Yuk, a "boy" in the employ of Mr. G. Bertolone, to recover from his master the sum of $15.60 for wages due for 26 days.

Defendant stated that on the night of November 26th the plaintiff served a customer with cigarettes. The price for these was 45 cents, Reserves - S. J. Taylor, A. Gipson and W. S. and the plaintiff failed to get the money. He Diggins. told defendant that the purchaser took the bill. put it in his pocket and went away. Defendant said he would cut the 45 conts. Plaintiff said, "that won't make me poor, and it won't make you rich." Then he put on his hat. walked out of the shop and did not return on the following day.

His Lordship-Your custom is that servants who serve a customer are responsible for the bill being paid?—Yes.

I suppose there is no chance of this matter being settled ?-I did not intend to "cut" him but when he approached me in an awfully cheeky manner I "got the rag" and told him he could go. I intended to summons him, but did not know his address, and did not see him again until I got this summons.

Do you want me to hear the case, or do you wish me to settle it?-I will leave it to your Lordship.

Plaintiff was called and stated that a customer who entered the shop smoked 45 cents worth of cigarettes, said they were bad, and refused to pay for them. Plaintiff reported the matter to a European in the shop who tried to collect the the money, but was unsuccessful. When the master entered he said he would deduct 45 cents from witness' wages. Witness objected, as he had tried to collect the money, but was unable to do so. Defendant then dismissed him. Plain. tiff asked for his wages, and was told that he would be paid on the 28th November. He -called on the morning of that day, and defendant told him to call again in the afternoon. When he returned in the afternoon defendant would not let him in, and refused to pay him his wages. Defendant's wife was in the shop when the foreigner refused to pay for the eigarettes, and she let the man go.

His Lordship-If the European would not pay and the plaintiff reported the matter to a European, then he cannot be held responsible.

Defendant-He did not report the matter until the man had left the shop. It is very hard to deal with these boys, and one must be very strict. I am very busy, and it is not my pleasure to be mixed up in trouble like this for 45 cents. Many times I have threatened to fine boys, but have not done so, and would not have done so in this instance if the plaintiff had not been so cheeky. He was very, very insulting. The Russian to whom the plaintiff reported the matter did not understand English.

His Lordship-Ought not the Russian to have reported to you?-He did not understand. How long has this boy been with you?-Previously he was in my temploy for three months. Then I dismissed him, but after he wrote me four or five letters to take him back did so.

His Lordship adjourned the case for a week and told the plaintiff that if he went and begged his master's pardon the matter might be settled.

TO-DAY'S MATCHES.

The League matches for this afternoon should all prove interesting; but no doubt the Naval Yard and Buffs will provide the tit bit for the afternoon, and the game is sure to be a w contested one. The records of the two teams are much the same, Naval Yard having drawn with Y.M.C.A. who beat R.E.s and Hongkong by the narrow margin of 1.0 on each occasion: and the Buffs have drawn with R.E.s and beat Hongkong by 1-0. Popular opinion has it that the Buffs have something up their sleeve; and no doubt to-day's match with Naval Yard will give the soldiers in tip top form, as the Naval

To acquire this distinction suitably equipped buildings and specially qualifled lecturers on anatomy and physiology were an essential preliminary. There was no lack of students, but what the Court wanted was minimum capital sum of $150,000 as an endowment for the College. With this amount, th Government annual grant and students' fees would be possible to engage the services of duly qualified teachers of anatomy and physiology as well as improve arrangements for the teaching of other subjects. Licentiates of the College, it was pointed out, were exerting a wide and a widening influence towards the breaking down of Chinese prejudices and obstruction to a better sanitation.

As the result of the Doctor's appeal a strong committee was formed in England, including the doctors above-named, and Surgeon-General Evatt, Surgeon-General Paterson, Sir Thomas Jackson, Prof. W. J. When a Daily Press representative called on Dr. Ho Kai yesterday to inquire whether the committee of the proposed University had apin proached the Colonial Office for a subsidy: he was informed that they had not. The Doctor stated further that ways and means in connection with the University project were still under consideration, and that no doubt if a university was established here the Hongkong College of Medicine would become the nucleus of it. In appreciation of the excellence of the training at the Hongkong College of Medicine Dr. Ho Kai stated that the claims of two licentiates of this College who went home recently, ing number of smaller craft, instead of four, to be admitted by the Joint Beard of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Edinburgh to their final examination without further qualifications had been acknowledged.

These licentiates are now studying for the degrees of M.B., CH. The Joint, Board of Preliminary Examiners for Scottish Universities has admitted in Edinburgh without further preliminary examination, and the General Medical Council of the United Kingdom has ante-dated their medical registration Great Britain to the beginning of their curricula of study in Hongkong, to permit of their availing themselves of the shortened period of study granted by the Edinburgh University. only require a little help," said Dr. Ho Kai in conclusion, to make our licentiates equal to any at home.

LONDON, November 13. "FILLING UP THE CUP"

There is a growing idea here that Mr. Asquith is preparing for an election next year or early in 1910. He is doing what the late Premier called "filling up the cup" against the House of Lords, and then he wants to go to the The 87th Co. But there are some side issues that, while are proceeding in the methods of both parties First, the old time exclusiveness that more or less dominated the Conservatives is breaking downeven more than it has done since the admission their match against H.M.S. The Campaign fund comes mainly from wealthy tariff reformers who will not allow that issue to be shirked in any degree, and though the propaganda is making progress, the abandonment of Free Trade is not yet altogether popular with the working classes. Therefore measures are being taken within the party to rally the fadestrial cantres and mare to the factor County. It is proposed to nominate at least half a dozen Conservative-Labour men with tariff reform views in the large manufacturing centres, and so to unite, if possible, the aristocracy and

The election of Mr. Taft has set American business booming and we are feeling some tinge of the good effects here also. Stocks both of produce and of company shares that had long been a drug are reviving, and reports are to hand showing a general impetus in industries. It will be, in fact, a continuation of the Roose welt administration, whithout the enlivening wariety of the Roosevelt fireworks in print and utterance from time to time.

ti" Billy Taft," as he is known to the American public, is regarded as a "safe" man. Incident ally he has strong intentions of helping the Philippines. "They are my first love" he has said since his election, "and I can't forget them for other things."

I have just seen a lot of the campaign literature that flooded the country in the last week of the campaign. I was struck by the part the Far East played in the illustrations. There were pictures of Mr. Taft disembarking at Shanghai, drinking tea with a Chinese mandarin, being chaired through Hongkong, opening the Philippine Assembly, and inspecting the waterworks at Manila. All aimed, of course, at showing him as the travelled, experienced, ready for all circumstances, handy man.

President Roosevelt has written to an Irish correspondent stating that he will not come to Treland or England next spring, but in March will go straight to Africa for his sporting trip and then give the British Isles a call after that if the lions do not get him meanwhile.

I hear, by the way that he is so impressed by the good impression made on American opinion by the Pacific cruise of the battleship fleet that he now hopes to induce Congress to consider the grant of no less than six battleships and a correspondas announced some weeks ago. At any rate Naval Board is planning to ask for six in the hope of getting at least the original four.

Plans are also being prepared for the re-equipment of many tornedo-boats so as to secure greater speeds. BIE HENRY BLAKE.

So valuable were the services of Sir Henry Blake to the recent Rubber Exhibition that those who were prominently associated with it are proposing to make a presentation to him. I notice too that he has developed an appetite for such enterprises and has consented to become one of the vice-presidents of the Tropical Exhibition to be held at Olympia next year. Sir Gilbert Parker is the President, and the object is to demonstrate the attractions and productive resources of Tropical countries, both as affecting commerfor this Tropical show. A SCHOOL FOR ORIENTAL LANGUAGES. In connection with the movement for the establishment of a School for Oriental Languages, mainly for the benefit of those intending to join the public services in the Eastern colonies, the Overseas League is gathering opinion from ex-viceroys and ex-governors, and when the case is complete the Government is to be asked to receive a deputation, with a view to the extraction of a grant from the Treasury for the establishment of the school, preferably in connection with the London University.

CHINESE SAILORS. Apparently the stringent regulations laid down by Mr. Winston Churchill, since his arrival as chief of the Board of Trade, with a view to preventing Chinese sailors from unfairly ousting British mariners from ships plying between our ports, have not made the Orientals despair. Mr. Havelock Wilson, M.P., the seamen's representative, declares that many artful dodges are being resorted to in order that has come to our knowledge that the great difficulty of identifying any particular Chinaman is being turned to advantage by the Asiatics so that they are enabled to evade the regulations right and left.

"A Chinaman for instance, who can speak English well, passes the language test and is entered on the ship's books, but, before the vessel sails, his place is taken by another who knows no English at all. The first is then free to do the same thing again, and so the fraud goes on, and British seamen are supplanted by the Chinaman in spite of the regulations There will have to be some much better means of identification before the arrangements can be regarded as satisfactory."

Nevertheless Mr. Havelock Wilson admits that the number of Chinese seamen in the East End is steadily decreasing, and he believes that since Mr. Winston Churchill took charge at the Board of Trade the figures have dropped from a thousand to barely a third of that total.

gathering in this country. Probably neither the Chinese Minister nor his popular First Secretary, Ivan Cheng, would find fault with my statement that the chief attraction at the opening meeting of the winter session of the China Society at the Caxton Hall last night was the chairman, Sir Robert Hart. The two Chinese officials mentioned contributed the papers read, but it was to "Chinese Hart" that the crowded audience looked. It was indeed by far the best meeting the Society has yet held apart from dining functions. Everybody in the Anglo-Chinese colony here who could attend did so, and took friends. All the old familar faces were there and many lately home or furlough or for good. And they gave the Chairman a most rousing reception.

Having very briefly opened the meeting Sir Robert called on the Chinese Minister, Lord Li Ching-fong, who delivered a brief address in which he sketched the bare outlines of "The General Evolution of Chinese Philosophy and

Sir Robert Hart then proposed a vote of thanks to the Minister, congratulating bim on the skill with which he had in English constructed his paper and worked out his arguments. Sir Robert added that during his first year in China, 1854, he was astonished to find electricity so far advanced. He noticed that the children in the streets amused themselves by standing at opposite sides of the street and communicating with each other by means of a rope—an anticipation of the telephone. Similarly he showed how the Chinese had anticipated our guns, our phonographs, and our game of diabolo. In these and many other ways the Chinese had proved themselves to be most intelligent and able inventors, and they appeared to be able to achieve almost anything they set their minds to in that way. As he had said many times before he believed the Chinese nation had a great future before it. Next came Mr. Ivan Cheng, with one of hi quite remarkable papers, showing a wit. sarcasm and a command of English that would be difficult to match in all the foreign diplomatic corps in London. His subject was "Climbing | ficate, and when they got it the the Chinese social ladder." The Su Ch'en epoch was the most important in considering this question, for he formed a league against the rising power of his opponents This made such an impression that he was treated with great respect. That result was visible in this day-when a man is poor and obscure he is treated with disrespect, but when success arrives so does respectful treatment This was a matter that could not be disregarded so long as men lived in this mundane sphere, for the same rule prevailed on that score as in 350 B. C. In consequence of this the world has always female sex and allows her to marry. been kept busy, everybody seeking to gain success and respect, whether in East or West. But in China some things were different in climbing the social ladder. China had no Parliament and therefore no political "pull" for left Shanghai on the 10th inst. and cial firms and sportsmen. WAS ABSOLUTELY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have to thank Cutioura Remedies for completely curing me of one of the worst attacks of boils it is possible to imagine. I suffered from bolls incessantly for a year, and I was so unsuccessful in trying remedy after remedy that I began to despair of ever getting my system clear of this distressing allment. My shoulder and back were principally affected. Any one who has had a single boil knows how dreadfully painful boils are, so it will be evident how much I suffered when I tell you that I had four large that I could hardly bear my olother They were very large, one on my back extending to the size of a five-shilling piece, while the smallest was as big as a sixpence. My health suffered much as the result of the attack and I got into a very run-down condition.

After I had tried other means without any benefit, I read of a cure by Cuticura thought I could not do any harm in trying Cuticura Soap. So I bought a tablet and after I had washed the affected parts a few times I noticed such a great improvement that I de-olded I could not do better than try the whole Cuticura Treatment. I got the Cutiours Soap, Cintment, and Pills, and my progress from that time was truly wonderful. A great change for the better took place almost immedi-ately and now, well within three months from when I started with the Scap. can pronounce myself absolutely cured. Cutioura Remedies have got the disease right out of my system. I am ex-tremely grateful for the great benefit I have derived, and I wish most earnestly to recommend Cuticura Remedies to every one troubled with boils. shall never be without Cuticura Boap. Mrs. E. Mr. Tom Richards, the Labour member for West Monmouth, made an earnest speech, listened to with deep attention. INSTIGATING A BOYCOTT AT BANGKOK.

CHINESE AGITATORS AT WORK.

On November 20, it was found that, in various places about Bangkok, placards had been pusted up arging the Chinese of Bangkok to boycott Japanese goods.

The "Siam Observer" learns that several Chinese, who are supposed to have been connected with the recent boycott riots in Hongkong and who, it is said, fled from the British Colony to avoid arrest, arrived in Bangkok a few days sinue. These men are Cantonese and apparently they design to attempt to stir up trouble in Bangkok as they did in Hongkong.

Immediately upon their arrival, they sought to purchase one of the Chinese newspapers published in Bangkok, but we are informed, adds our contemporary, that they were not successful in carrying the negotiations through. Howeyer, as the placards prove, they have succeeded in getting their inflammatory literature printed. These appeals to the Chinese are not only pasted up in prominent positions but are also distributed broadcast by hand and moreover are said to have been published in a local Chinese paper. These facts have been, we understand, communicated to His Excellency the Japanese Minister. Unless, however, it be proven that Japanese trade is being adversely affected by the efforts of the agitators, it is unlikely that His Excellency will ask the Government to take action.

Following is a translation of the appealation Chinese nation, and it is well known therefore that a boycott is insisted on at Canton against Japanese goods. This prevails also at Hongkong and Singapore, and even at Sydney. Everywhere, the Chinese are boycotting Japanese goods. Notwithstanding this boycott every where, here in Bangkok only, the Chinese are callous like pigs or dogs. Japan being a strong Power the only means to make way against the country is by refusing to buy or sell its goods. Please bear this in mind."

Needless to add, this document is not signed.

WOMAN.

HER HISTORY THROUGH THE AGES

In his new book, "Woman Through the Age, Dr. Reich quotes an American writer who says: "History is more than incidents; it is the movement of men." Dr. Reich himself shows us that history is largely the movement of women.

He begins with Egypt: Women, with the Egyptians, occupied a well-defined, important, and high position. Religion largely influenced their home life, for since their goddesses shared with the gods supreme power, so the women were held to have the same equality with men in human affairs. The child inherited and took the rank of its mother, irrespective of the status of the father.

Despite all this, the Egyptian woman possessed familiar feminine weaknesses, and some unusual in modern times:-

The women of the better classes, who were exempt from toil and exposure, were all thus painted yellow, the tint getting paler as they rose in the social scale: And to the beauty of the skin was attached as much importance as to dress. Artificial means of painting were resorted to freely, the beauty of the skin being enhanced by the frequent us of oil and perfumes in the preparation of which much ingenuity was exercised; parts of the body were even tattooed. IN BABYLON.

The Babylonian woman was even more fortunate than the Egyptian:---. In these days of women's demand for the franchise it is interesting to note the immense power held by women in Babylonia thirty centuries ago. The dowry system, which gave the women rights over her own property, and the great influence of wealth in the country, made of her an independent actor in her own affairs; and in the documents that have come down to us we find married women transacting business which in modern States comes mainly within the province of men.

We find them selling their own property entering into partnership and trade, conducting lawsuits even against their own husbands for the unauthorised disposal of their property, and mulcting them in damages; they are also parties to the lending of money and in the purchase of slaves. In fact, in all matters of business rights there would appear to be no difference between the man and the woman in the eyes of the law. The Greek woman, about whom Dr. Reich naturally has much to say, was in a well-defined inferior position. The following indicates the wisdom—and the good fortune—of the male

Greek:-Silence at all times, whether in or out of the house, was considered the duty of a woman; and not only was she expected to keep silence herself, but she was also expected to conduct herself in such a way that no one else could speak about

IN ROME. As in Greece, so in Rome:-

From the very beginning Rome was a man's State. Early Roman law and custom placed women in a position in which, in spite of the gradual relation of legal restrictions, the steady growth of the imperial idea forced them toremain. In the family the Roman woman was awery miner factor.

All children, male and female, were equally subject to the paternal will, but the posiof daughters was more galling than that of sons, inasmuch as their freedom action was considerably less. acts which were permitted to a son regarded as crimes when committed by daughter. A single instance will suffice illustrate this. It was enough for a woman have tasted wine to be held worthy of death; and, if we believe Tertullian, the Romans first resorted to kissing in order that they might the more easily detect their women folk in such lapses from strict virtue.

Of course, both in Greece and Rome woman played a great part, making history as often by her vices as her virtues. Byzantine women, mediaval women in cloisters and in the world, and the women of the Renaissance are all described. Here is an interesting picture of middle-class life in the Middle Ages:--

The burgher woman was ill-educted, and violent in temper, uncouth in manners, and foul of speech. She tried to tyrannise over her husband, and would beat him when she could, being often, in her turn, soundly belaboured. She was probably a better housewife than we usually see out of France to-day, understood her husband's business, managed it in many cases for him, and could drink nearly as hard as he. For the tavern was the resort of the respectable was to divide it into two pieces. For dividing goodwife just as much as of her mate, and to diamonds two processes are available—sawing that she went on her way to and from church or and splitting. In the former, which is the more call, the place where the gossip of the town was ago, use is made of a thin dise of steel or

Two chapters are devoted to the English women of the Tudor and Stnart periods, and two to the French women of the Courts of Louis KIV, and Louis XV. Of the gorgeous days of the "Grand Monarque" Dr. Reich says :--

In contrast to the lavish bathing of the earlier Middle Ages just as may be noted in the Court of the English Restoration at Whitehall, so at Versailles the student feels that cleanliness was as remote as godliness, though the salle de toilette was as ostentations as the chapel; and if sometimes gentlemen of France were rained by the cost of the clothes their wives wore, and if the mistresses appeared in superb costumes, dirt, tresses appeared in superb costumes, dirt, sonal negligence of what was not visible, form undoubted and ugly reatures of the

The salon are given a champter to them-

Belves: The salon of 1730 was domestic and rather dull. That of 1760, was gay, noisy, and delightfully heartless. That of 1780 was more pessimistic, more grave, and when there was laughter it was "au bout des dents." The salon under Louis XIV was a symbol of the past, that of Louis XV of the present, that of Louis XVI. of the future.

Dr. Reich is always outspoken and often caustic. Here are two examples:—
To turn to the English woman of the eight-tenth century after contemplating her French sister of the same period is like eating a penny bun after enjoying a delicate éclair. The one was provincially insular and narrow-minded, whereas the other was delicious, vivacious, and almost too broad in her views.

And of the modern American woman he

There are over twelve million pianos in American houses used mostly by women; yet there is not a single American pianiste of even the third order. There are thousands of schools for American women, yet there is not a single American woman of note as a scholar.

The last word, then, in American womanhood is this, that they represent actually what the ancient Greek myths (if myths they be) represented symbolically—a realm of Amazons grafted upon a realm of men.

It is a wondrous array that passes through Dr. Reich's pages: Agrippina and Jeanne d'Albret, Queen Anne and Aspasis, Mrs. Browning and Lucrezia Borgia, Joan of Arc.

and Messalina, Mme. Recamier and Charlotte

Bronte, St. Teresa and Mme. de Stael. Dr. Reich is evidently an antifeminist, in the present-day meaning of the term. He believes that in an Imperial State the man must predominate, and his general attitude to the position and power of woman may be gathered from the following quotation :-- observe, as I have already quoted "Women are the originating causes of the great convulsions of States, and wars which ruin kingdoms and empires proceed nearly always from the effects of their beauty or malice." This is at least as good a motive as the reckless shaking of a mailed fist or the impulse to fight in order to distract attention from an imminent bankruptcy due to foolhardy speculation.

And again :-She (Josephine) never loved Napoleon; he was far too great ever to be loved by any woman. But he loved her madly just as Nelson loved Emma Hamilton. So long as he loved Josephine he was incited by his love for her to do those things that convulsed the world. From the time he discarded her he encountered the misfortunes which began at Moscow and ended at St. Helena. So long as he idealised that unfaithful Creole, what he imagined her to be urged him to achieve heroic deeds.

An interesting, careful book, rather collecting information than adding to it, perhaps hardly inspired, but certainly clever.

THE KING'S GREAT DIAMOND.

HOW THE CULLINAN WAS SPLIT UP.

The magnificent brilliants, unequalled in the world, which have been produced by the cutting and polishing of the great Cullinan diamond, 1. A pendeloque or drop brilliant weighing are enumerated with their weights as follows:-5161 carats. The extreme dimensions of the stone are 2,322 inches long and 1,791 inch board. 2. A square brilliant weighing 309,3-16 carats, 1,771 inch long by 1,594 inch broad.

3. A pendeloque weighing 92 carate. 4. A square brilliant weighing 62 carats. 5. A heard-shaped brilliant weighing 183

6. A marquise brilliant weighing 111 carats. 7. A marquise brilliant weighing 89-16 carats. 8. A square brilliant weighing 6% carats. 9. A pendeloque brilliant weighing 29-32

10. Ninety-six brilliants weighing 72 carats. 11. A quantity of unpolished "ends" weigh- The land is laid out as follows:-

ing 9 carats. Before being cut, the Cullinan weighed 3,0263 English carats, or more than 11lb. avoirdupois.

LARGEST IN THE WORLD. The first and second stones are far larger than any others in the world, as the following comparison shows:-

Cullinan " No. 1, 5161 Jubilee" (owned by Messrs, Wernher, Beif, and Co., and members of Diamond Syndicate) 236

Cullinan No. 1 is thus nearly five times larger, and Cullinan No. 2 nearly three times larger than the Koh-i-noor. And all the Cullinan stones, large and small, exhibit "the most marvellous brilliancy that diamonds can show." An account of the outting and polishing of the Transvaal's gift to the King was given in the "Times." This has been safely accomplished by Messrs. Joseph Asscher and Co. in their factory in Amsterdam, under the inspection of Messrs. M. J. Levy and Nephews. The diamond was handed to Messrs. Asscher at the Colonial Office on January 23 last, and was taken by three members of the firm, by way of Dover, Calais, and Brussels, to Amsterdam. Here it was ledged in the strong room in the basement of Messrs. Asscher's new and model diamond factory, where 400 workpeople are

All the diamonds on the premises are stored away every night. The walls of the room are of steel and concerete over two feet thick, and the immense outer door is secured by a lock working with a combination of numbers which is known only to the heads of the firm. Inside there is a door eight inches thick with nine concealed locks, and inside that again a couple of steel coffers, in one of which the Cullinan diamond has reposed every night for the last

The first operation undertaken on the stone when marketing. In fact, it was her house of modern and was introduced only about ten years phosphor copper, revolving some 3,000 times a minute, which slowly cuts through the diamond in any desired direction.

Sawing has the edvantage that it often enables the material to be more economically utilised, but it was not thought advisable to use the eaw for the Cullinan diamond because there was always the risk that the dise, having got some distance into the stone, might bend, and cause the cut to deviate from the desired line. So it was determined to split the great stone. Most wisely might Mme. de Motteville First, a groove had to be cut in it, and after this had been done, Mr. Joseph Assoher undertook the immensely responsible business of octually splitting the stone. The diamond was held with coment at the end of a strong wooden stick which was fixed upright. Mr. Asscher held the knife-a wedge of steel, something like a comb in shape-in his left hand in the groove. In his right he grasped a short, heavy steel rod. POSSIBILITIES OF FLAW. The scene of suppressed but intense excitement can be imagined as Mr. Asscher lifted his hammer to smite the largest rough diamond the world has ever seen. For the question was, would the Cullinan split in the way desired, or would the split follow some hidden flaw and possibly shatter the diamond in many pieces? A blow with all a man's strength was needed. It fell and—the stone was unbroken. Again the master cutter raised his rod and smote the knife. And this time the knife out clean through, and left the Cullinan in two parts, one weighing 1,9772 and the other 1,0402 carats. A few days later an even more difficult work. had to be done—the further cutting of the larger stone, and for this a twohandled knife had to be invented and used. Next came the long and delicate process of grinding and polishing the stones, which was done by M. Henri Koe, a Dutchman who was born in London. A special room was built, and special apparatus was devised for the process, which occupied about five months.

Most large diamonds are cut into fifty-eight facets, but the Cullinan stones were so large that

HOW LONDONERS LIVE, WORK, AND PLAY.

HISTORY IN FIGURES.

What is London? This is the question which the London County Council seeks each year to answer in its annual volume of statistics, and every year the answer becomes more overwhelming in its vastness.

The latest volume issued yesterday tells us in the first place that Administrative London is composed of 741,816 nores of land and water. Miles of streets 2.134

Houses 611.786 Factories and workshops 28,265 Parks and open spaces (acres) ... 9,126 On this land live 4,795,789 human beings. while around them within a few miles another 3.000.000 make their homes. This is greatest aggregation of men. women. and children in one place the world has ever known.

If the 4,795,789 inhabitants of Administrative London were spread over the whole acreage there would be 60 persons to every acre, and in each acre there would be eight houses for them to live in. Mass them all together however, giving each person about two square feet to stand in, and it would be bossible to get the whole population in Hyde Park and still have over 100 acres to spare.

The population of London is continually changing. Every hour tour teen new Londoners are born and eight die.

£1,040,057,846. Despite this, however, there poetic effusion in the Hankow Daily News:is a large amount of poverty. The figures show

One person in every thirty-three is a pauper. Twenty persons in every 100 die in a workhouse or a workhouse infirmary.... London does much to cope with its burden of poverty, and every year £10,066,043 is distributed by various charities. No one can tell what it costs to feed London's population. Here, however, is a part of its enormous yearly bill of fare:-Dead meat (tons) Live cattle Live Sheep Fish (tons) 174,332 Milk (gallons) 30,826,330

In addition to these items, an army of 60.275 Londoners are busily working all the year in preparing other food and drink for their fellows consumption. Here are some of them :-Bread and confectionery making ... 23,756

Other foods Brewing, etc Aerated waters manufacturing... The water consumed by Londoners and used for washing and other purposes reaches the year, and for this they pay £1,832,772 a year.

WORKSHOPS AND FACTORIES. London is essentially a place to work in, despite its many attractions to the visitor. In its 28,265 factories and workshops alone 568,641 women, and children find employment. The largest number of these are engaged in making clothes. Here are the figures of the principal occupations :-Places. 130,500 Wood and wood articles 4.031 Paper and printing..... 3,011 ... Metals and machinery 2,872 ...

Food, etc Londoners are much given to travelling in trains, tramcars, and omnibuses. The weather may account for this, for it might be considerably better than it is. The average, that may by expected each year is about as follows :---

1,280 hours of sunshine out of a possible 160 rainy days, with a total rainfall of 24½

An average temperature of 50degrees. Whatever the cause, however, the fondness for being carried about instead of walking is undoubtedly one of the Londoner's greatest faillings. The facilities are tremendous. Here are some of them :--

The great trunk lines have termini in London. The local railways are worth £66,888,265. There and 124 miles of tramways. Omnibuses number 3.762, of which motoromnibuses form nearly a third. The number of passengers carried by the local railways and tramcars alone numbered over 949,000,000 last year equal to 200 journeys for i every man, woman, and child in London, while millions more were carried in omnibuses and

AMUSEMENTS.

There is a wide variety in the means by which Londoners are able to amuse themselves when the working day is over. In addition to the open air pastimes to be found in the parks and open spaces, the following sources are available to them: Theatres 53 Concert halls ... 261

49 Museums Music halls There are also eighty-eight public libraries open to them, which possess 1,184,092 books. The total number issued last year was 6,300,387 books, of which 4.013.222 were novels.

Londoners are great letter writers, and in the course of one year their correspondence amounts

Letters..... 737,100,000 In addition to these they send 28,260,000. telegrams in a year, and enjoy 145,905,633 chats over the telephone.

How is this vast city governed? In all there are 101 local governing bodies which deal with every side of public life. These have a total of 8.783 effected members. Many of the offices are held in duplicate, however, and it is probable that the total number of persons engaged in the government of London is about 2800. They are elected by 816,593 voters, of whom 118,695 are women: #

Have you ever heard of "hair drill"? No? Well, every hair of your head is a little soldier. The duty it shares with its more or less numerour fellows is that of maintaining the temperature of your brain at normal. With out a well trained head of hair your brain must become too het in summer and too cold in winter, and you have headaches when the sun shines and colds in the head when the sun doesn't shine. This is considering the subject of your hair quite apart from the aspect of mere oppearance, important as this is in itself. "How can you drill your hair?" Well, are you willing to try? Are you willing to test the drilling of your hair for one week, if it entails no more expense than the trivial amount of 3d.? "Yes," you say. All right; now, will you just note that the present condition of your hair is either one or more of th following: 6. Scurfy. 7. Greasy. . 2. Brittle. 3. Lustreless. 8. Slightly odorous. 4. Losing Colour.

9. Thin or Patchy. 5. Palling. If you can candidly admit that your hair foes come under one or more of the foregoing descriptions, you certainly ought not to let slip this opportunity of so easily and so cheaply finding out what the right kind of care for your hair will do for you—you certainly ought to try one week's free test drill of your hair? Do you not think so? The week's test will produce results that will open your eyes to the possibilities of proper

The trial, short as it is, will yet show you-That your hair can be drilled into fine That your hair need not be too brittle or too limp. That your hair need not be too lustreless or too shiny. That it need not be too highly coloured or too colourless. That it need not fall out when brushed or

The one week's trial, for which the enterprising proprietors of the famous preparation Edward's "Harlene" are willing to send a sufficient supply to every reader of this paper, will also show another remarkable effect. It will show how important to the welfare of your brain is the condition of your hair, and before the end of the week you will revel in a sense of mental lightness and alertness. Your test will not be speculative in the slightest degree. The special free bottle of "Harlene" placed at your disposal for the purpose of the test is used by most of those members of Royalty and Society who are noted for beautiful hair. The week's test is open to both sexes and all ages . Why not send to-day, and thus place yourself in a position to commence the week's trial at once. A strong word of caution should be given against taking internal remedies, which will ruin the constitution, and cheap, worthless remedies which will ruin the hair.

FIHE SISTERS who direct St. Antonio's CONVENT at Macao will be v ry thankful to Shop-keepers, Linen-drappers, Clothiers and Tailors in Hongkong, Macao, and elsewhere who will send to them remnants of material, books of patterns no longer used, and any pieces of cloth, no matter how small, of which they cannot make use.

Those who send will thus, at no cost to themselves, afford the numerous hands in the convent, especially the little ones, opportunity for useful occupation; for pieces of cloth, even of a square inch. can be atitohed together and very pretty pieces of work made out of cloth, that would otherwise be thrown away. These articles are bought by charitable persons and the Sisters are thus helped to keep up their yory large establishment, which is maintained by the alms of friends and in a great measure by the carnings of the girls themselves, who lead by no means an idle life within the convent vention, 1895; Commercial, 1898; New Port 1816.
